CHEROKEE ENROLLMENT.

Tribal Attorneys Make Their Report On Freedmen Cases.

The attorneys for the Cherokee Nation before the commission to the Five Civilized Tribes in the matter of the enrollment of Cherokee freedmen have submitted their report to the principal chief showing the progress of the work on the final roll of Cherokee freedmen to this date. The report shows the number of persons applying to the commission for enrollment as Cherokee freedmen have been classed as follows: Regular freedmen, 3271; doubtful, 2883; rejected, 375; freedmen not on any roll, 98; total number of applications, 6627. The report shows that the testimony both for and against the Cherokee freedmen is all in and that the commission is preparing to render decisions in all doubtful and rejected cases, and that the work of making the Cherokee freedmen roll will be completed by the commission by Jan. 10, 1903.

NEARING ALLOTMENT.

Osges Are Preparing to File On Homesteads.

Early last spring Secretary Hitchcock issued an order to the citizens of the Osges reservation to select 160 acres each as a homestead and to have the same properly located and recorded with the Indian agent at Pawhuska. This order is now being complied with. M. L. Johnson, a surveyor of Skiatook, has been in the vicinity of Bartlesville during the week running lines and making locations for a number of Osges citizens. This order from the interior department is a preliminary action for the allotment of the lands of the Osges tribe, which is believed to be not very far distant.

COMANCHE CHIEF

Now Wears the Star of a Deputy Sheriff.

Quannah Parker, chief of the Comanches, has been appointed deputy sheriff at Lawton and has assumed his new duties. When sworn into office Parker was dressed in ordinary civilian garb, but with his hair braided down his back.

The Comanche chief has always been something of a politician and like a number of his white brothers has always had a consuming desire to hold office.

A Thanksgiving Dinner.

Heavy eating is usually the first cause of indigestion. Repeated attacks inflame the mucous membranes lining the stomach, expose the nerves of the stomach, producing a swelling after eating, heartburn, headache, sour risings and finally catarrh of the stomach. Kodol cures the inflammation, protects the nerves and cures the catarrh. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia, all stomach troubles by cleansing and sweetening the glands of the stomach. A. W. ### COURT UPHOLDS

The Validity of the Grazing Tax Imposed Upon Alien Cattle.

INJUNCTION DENIED

Cattleman Who Objected to Revenue Inspector Cobb and His Indian Police Driving Herds Across the Red River.

The petition for an injunction restraining Revenue Inspector Guy V. Cobb from running out alien herds of cattle on which the grazing tax of twenty-five cents per head has not been paid, has been denied Texas cattlemen by Judge Clayton sitting in the federal court at Durant.

The regulations of the department provide payment of offending herds against this law, but cattlemen have never been used to its enforcement. Some time ago notices were served on the owners of all cattle that had been shipped into the territory to pay or their cattle would be run out of the territory. Some of them paid and others ignored the notice just as they have always done. It was then that Cobb donned his point and went on the war path.

Last week bunches of cattle belonging to A. T. Davis, M. A. Davis, J. R. Thompson, Marion Allen and others, who were grazing them near Marietta, were run out of the territory because the owners have refused to pay the tax.

W. O. Davis of Gainville, an attorney, who represents cowmen owning 100,000 head of cattle that have been brought from Texas to the territory, filed an injunction against Cobb to prevent running the cattle out.

Judge Clayton denied the petition and now Cobb will vigorously enforce the law. There is a penalty of $1 per diem on every steer returned to the territory after having been driven out.

JAIL LOCATED.

Lot in South Part of Town Selected and Appraisers Appointed.

The official announcement has been made that the site for the new federal jail has been selected, and that it will be erected on lots owned by Lucien Ballington and J. B. Stupler of Tahlequah near the foot of Scrapper street. The combined lots have a frontage of about 300 feet on Scrapper Street and a depth of about 150 feet.

The lots will be appraised by a board of appraisers consisting of E. C. Stretch, E. N. Ratcliff and Edgar Smith and the government will at once institute condemnation proceedings. The new jail will cost $25,000 and will be appointed with all the most modern devices now used in penal institutions.

MEMORIAL LIBRARY

To Be Established By the Friends of the Late Chief Journeyake and Major Pratt.

The Rev. B. W. Wiseman, financial secretary of the Kansas City Baptist Theological seminary Third street and Troup avenue, Kansas City, Kas., has received from the friends and relatives of the late Major John G. Pratt and Chief Charles Journeyake contributions amounting to $2,500 for the establishment of a library in the seminary as a memorial to these pioneer missionaries of the church. Most of the contributors live in southern Kansas and the Indian territory. The money was raised in less than ten days.

Major Pratt came to Kansas in 1837. He has been called the "Pioneer Baptist Minister." Near Piper, Kas., Mr. Pratt erected the first Baptist church in Kansas soon after he came to the state. He was held in high honor by the Baptists of Southern Kansas until his death a few years ago. His widow died only a few weeks ago.

Chief Journeyake was a Baptist missionary among the Delaware Indians in Wyandotte county in the early days of Kansas City, Kas., and when the Indians were removed to the reservation in the Indian territory, he went with them and continued his work as a missionary until his death three years ago.

The Kansas City Baptist Theological seminary was opened two weeks ago. It is the only institution of the Baptist denomination of importance west of Chicago.

JAS. H. FARRELL, A PROMINENT CHICAGO MAN.

And the Oldest Member of the Illinois House of Representatives Makes a Recommendation.

James H. Farrell of Chicago is one of the best known figures in the democratic politics of that city. For years he has been Marshal of the famous Cook County Democracy Marching Club, which has participated in Democratic campaigns in half the states of the union, and which went to New York especially to assist in the election of Mayor Van Wyck.

Capt. Farrell is the oldest member of the Illinois House of Representatives in point of service having been a member continuously since 1857. His constituents have elected him eight times. He has been a leader in that body from the beginning of his career and is one of the best known figures in Illinois politics.

Capt. Farrell is 55 years of age and one of the best preserved men for his years in the Illinois Legislature, despite his arduous and constant duties in that body. Mr. Farrell is engaged in the real estate business in Chicago. Under date of March 14, 1901, he writes as follows:

Springfield, Ill. Peppin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill. Manufacturers Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

GENTLEMEN: I have found after a thorough trial that your Syrup Pepsin is a most excellent and successful remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness and sick headache. It is the most effective and pleasing in all cases of this nature, and it is with pleasure I recommend it to others. Respectfully Yours, JAS. H. FARRELL.

SCHEME TO SELL

Liquor in the Territory Being Considered by Brewers and Distillers.

PROHIBITING LAWS

Said to be Exasperating to Liquor Men Acquainted With Territory Thirst—The Traffic in Patent Medicines, Red Ink, Etc., and Its Results.

The following special from South McAlester shows that the fame of the territory thirst is spreading. It says:

"The statement has been made upon fairly good authority that the brewers and distillers, through their national organizations, are preparing to receive, if possible, some way by which they can transact business in the Indian Territory. They are confronted by congressional treaties which guarantee to each of the five civilized tribes that intoxicating liquors shall not be introduced or sold in the Indian Territory.

"The prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors in the Indian Territory has long been an obstacle which the brewers and distillers of the United States have sought to overcome. The enforcement of this law by the federal government, while not entirely successful, probably has been more prohibitive than if state or county officers were required to do the work. The possession of intoxicants by individuals, regardless of whether they were to be offered for sale or consumed personally, is an offense, and deputy United States marshals everywhere have no hesitancy in confiscating the liquor.

"The demand for intoxicants has not been lessened by the law, however, and deleterious concoction offered in place of alcoholic drinks have shown a steady and increasing sale in the Indian Territory.

Patent medicines, lemon extract, bay rum, and even red ink, have been consumed in large quantities. Their physical effects have been as bad, if not worse, than the consumption of alcoholic drinks. A life insurance agent who does thousands of dollars in business annually in the Indian Territory and Oklahoma, said recently that a surprisingly large number of applicants for insurance in the Indian territory were rejected by examining physicians because of liver and kidney diseases, and that in almost every instance the source of the malady was traceable to the immoderate use of substitutes for the alcoholic drinks prohibited by law.

"The statement has been made that manufacturers have even changed their formulas, increasing the amount of alcohol in patent medicines to be sold in the Indian territory.

"The addition of portions of the Indian territory to Oklahoma for statehood purposes has been suggested as a means whereby the prohibitory law could be evaded or repealed. Unless congress should admit such portions on an equal footing with Oklahoma, there would be nothing to prevent their attachment in the same manner as the Osges reservation at present, and the enforcement of the same prohibitory laws as prevail in the Osges country.

Physicians Prescribe It. Many broad minded physicians prescribe Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before commencing its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down. Sold by Peoples' drug store. dw

BLANKET INDIAN

Not Wanted by Commissioner Jones at the St. Louis World's Fair.

THE INDIAN OF TODAY

With the Evidences of His Wonderful Progress, the Commissioner Thinks, Will Make a More Interesting Exhibit.

W. A. Jones, commissioner of Indian affairs, is opposed to the spectacular features of the proposed Indian exhibit at the World's Fair. Mr. Jones has expressed his views in this matter to Mr. Hitchcock, secretary of the interior, and the question is now under consideration by the department. The officers of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company have been requested to state their wishes in the matter. It has been intimated to the officials of the department that the exposition officials will request an Indian exhibit that will be characterized by the red fire effects that attach to the Indian of fiction, but are sadly lacking to the Indian life of today.

"I fully appreciate the public sentiment on this subject," said Commissioner Jones. "The people fail to realize the fact that the Indian of their fancy does not exist any more. It has been the experience of the department that these exhibitions work a great deal of harm to the Indians. Take a gang of bucks who have been forced to work and dress like white men and place them on dress parade for six months and they are utterly worthless for months to come. This has been our experience with the Indians who were in the expositions at Omaha and at Buffalo."

The clause of the Indian appropriation bill under which the exhibit was authorized was so worded as to leave a wide scope in the preparation of the exhibit. It authorizes the secretary of the interior to prepare an exhibit illustrating the past and present of the Indian, with an illustration showing his progress in education and along industrial lines. The reference to the Indian's past is taken by the officials of the department to cover the spectacular feature referred to, and to warrant the collection of the blanket Indians for the dances, races and other rites and ceremonies that were formerly a part and parcel of Indian life.

Congress appropriated $40,000 for the Indian exhibit. The manner in which this shall be expended will not be determined until the Indian bureau officials have had a consultation with the exposition officials.

Land Offices Located.

The Dawes Commission has announced the location of the land offices for the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations, as provided for by the new treaty. The Choctaw office will be at Atoka and the Chickasaw office at Tishomingo. Nearly every town in the two nations was an applicant. Atoka and Tishomingo agree to furnish buildings for the land offices, which will be opened about March 1. Sixty clerks will be taken from the Dawes commission force at Muskogee. The names of those who will have charge of the offices have not been announced.

FINDS HER RELATIVES.

Missouri Woman Kidnapped Twenty Five Years Ago Finds Brother At Sapulpa.

After years spent in searching for her relatives from whom she was kidnapped twenty-five years ago, Mrs. George H. Thomas of St. Joseph, Mo., has found her brother in Sapulpa.

The unfortunate woman was kidnapped by a "mover" near Agency Ford, Mo., a quarter of a century ago when but seven years of age. Her name was Abby Jane Berryhill and she was the daughter of a prosperous farmer. At thirteen she was married to a man named Thomas in Nebraska, who later died.

Several months ago she returned to Missouri, in search of her relatives and through a newspaper has just located her brother, Leonard Berryhill at Sapulpa. Through him she ascertained that her mother was living at Brunswick, Mo., and the family has been happily united after their long separation.

Tomorrow we will be a state, and one of the grandest states in the Union. The way for the change is being paved rapidly. The Dawes Commission is rapidly completing its work of enrolling the citizens of the Five Nations and allotting to them the land to which they are entitled. When the allotments are made, and the Indian in a position to sell his land, the real sun of prosperity will shine forth from beneath the clouds that have so long hidden it from the view of the people, and the real march toward greatness and wealth will commence.—Ardmore Appeal.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.

The total income of Oxford university is about $10,000, and of Cambridge $250,000.

A motor car was used as a pulpit by the chaplain of a British volunteer regiment at the Colchester maneuvers. Dr. John Mathews, pastor of the Methodist church, of Nashville, Tenn., recently finished the first vacation he has taken since he entered the ministry, 37 years ago. He gives because no one found the church in the five weeks of his absence.

An English curate who has just entered the workhouse at Tinsley, after being without employment for three years, has made 450 unsuccessful applications for a place. He had previously served 23 years as a curate, but found that vicars wanted only young men.

M. Milhous, a French millionaire, has bequeathed $100,000 as a fund to enable French students to study philosophy and religious sciences in German universities, and $50,000 more to the College de France to provide for a German university professor to lecture in Paris.

A four-story, centrally located Y. M. C. A. building has been opened in Shanghai, China, as the Saxon department. The success of this venture is assured by the strong financial backing of resident Anglo-Saxon merchants and bankers and by the appointment of Dr. H. G. Harris as secretary.

It is announced at Cornell university that three women have elected their intention of studying civil engineering in that institution next year. This is a decided innovation for Cornell. Hitherto no woman has taken that course. One woman from Rochester several years ago completed a major part of the work in Sibley college. She gained the soubriquet of "Sibley Kate," by taking the country and blacksmithing shop work with the men.

Foxley parish, near East Dyrham, has perhaps the most wonderful record in England. It has only changed its rector once in 110 years. In 1738 Rev. J. Blount took the living and held it until 1849, when Canon Norgate, the present rector, was appointed. The venerable canon is himself one of the oldest rectors in England, having a record of 44 years of clerical service. He presided at a service on the coronation of Queen Victoria and had never had the assistance of a curate until this year.

W. H. Hoven of Flint, Mich., writes: "I wish to report that my Cere has cured a kidney and bladder trouble. Doctors had given up. My Cere has cured it."
